NEW YORK DRY GOODS MARKET.

The New York Tribune of Wednesday says : The demand for Dry Goods from first hands has improved the last few days, while from second hands it has become exceedingly active, importations and home productions are both large and add materially to the stock on hand; but holders are firm in the belief that all desirable fancy, and all staple goods in stock will be wanted before the close of the season. The goods sold at auction, which have been considerable in the past week, are mostly parcels from which selections have been made at private sale, and do not, therefore, represent the market. Up to this period there have been more goods sold through the auction rooms than to the same period of 1852. Unbleached sheetings and shirtings are in short supply, especially heavy goods at 8c. and prices are firm. Bleached goods are held full prices. There is no overstock, or appearance at of an approaching one, and a very active trade is still in progress. Fine goods have advanced to .-Drills are less active but steady in price. Ticks are active at regular prices; Stripes are moderately so; Printing Cloths are in increased supply, and rather heavy in price. Prints are in accumulated stock, and prices are giving way, of the medium and lower qualities. Ginghams are active at 10 all cents. Lawns are in greater request and prices are firmer. Delaines are in over supply, and prices are very heavy. The increased production has greatly exceeded the consumption. Cloths are very firm from the moderate stock, and prices are only kept in check by the imported article. Cassimeres are in moderate supply relative to the demand, and prices are very regular and steady. Doeskins are rather scarce. Satinets are dull, but steady. Linseys are inactive, without change in quotations. Tweeds scarce and in request. Jeans dull and heavy Flannels and Blankets are very firm, with a small supply. Foreign goods have been much more active this week. The sales have far exceeded those of previous week. Fine dress French goods have been less abundant. Plaid Silks have sustained a heavy run of demand, and are reduced to a low stock. All good Silks, figured, plain and colored, are in active request. Printed Cottons have also moved freely. Cloths are also brisk of sale, at full prices. Doeskins sell readily. British goods are less active than Continental, but are firm in prices, with a fair and steady demand. The importations will shortly fall off. The advices both from Liverpool and Havre, indicate reduced shipments by the packets on the way.

[FROM THE CHARLESTON MERCURY.] ENGLISH COMMENTS.

The construction of the new Administration has been the subject of more careful and more respectful, as well as more intelligent, discussion in the British press, than a similar event has ever before drawn out. The United States have escaped from the position of boyishness, in which foreign writers have heretofore insisted on viewing them, and have been allowed a place among the master powers .-This is consoling. At least it is comfortable, to get rid of the scoldings, jeers and threats of the birch, that have formed the chief staple of British comment on American affairs. It will make the intercourse more reasonable and entertaining, even if it is no better tempered. But even in this respect there appears to be decided improvement. Perhaps there was something rather startling in the election of Mr. Pierce to the Presidency-a man raised by such general acclaim to so great a position, which he had never sought, and yet into which he stepped with the quiet determined air of one who was in no sort confused by his sudden elevation. A still stronger reason for the change of tone, may perhaps be found in the extent to which Great Britain has been isolated by recent events, in the political system of Europe. Whatever distance there may be between her and the United States, she is at least much nearer to us than to any of the leading powers of the old world; and whatever danger of collision there may lurk in the Central American, the Fishery, and such like questions, it is a danger trifling in appearance, and touching no vital part of her empire. But the hostility of Europe aims at her heart, and threatens the lion in his lair. The introduction of steam navies has robbed Britain of her insular security, and the next European war in which she engages, will be signalized by battles on her own soil. The sense of this danger has, in a remarkable degree, tempered the spirit of the British press, not only towards the United States, but towards France. In a recent number of the North British Review, it is laid down as the obvious dietate of a wise policy, that England should oppose no obstacle to the progress of the French conquest on the North of Africa-it being admitted that it will not stop short of the absorption of both Morocco and Tunis. Such a declaration would have been considered little short of treason at the date of the battle of Isla, when Fngland sent a fleet to see that France took nothing but honor by beating the Emperor of Morocco. At present there is every indication that the reviewer speaks the general conviction of British politicians, that it is the part of wisdom to compound for their own safety, by giving France free scope and plenty of employment in

We have been struck with the moderate and reasonable tone of the latest comments of the London Times on the position and character of Mr. Pierce's Administration. Speaking of the President's reiteration of the Monroe doctrine in his Inaugural, the Times says:

"We have no right to quarrel with American statesmen for making a canon of practical policy that the United States should oppose every attempt of the European powers to effect fresh conquests or plant fresh colonies on the American continents .-Such maxims, universally acquiesced in at home, though not paraded abroad, belong to the traditions of every government in the world. The proposition that Holland should resist European settlements in the Eastern Archipelago may be heard once or twice a week in the Dutch Chambers. We, ourselves have actually hazarded a distant and disastrous war without a single excuse for it except the doctrine of the foreign office, that Russia must not be allowed to push her arms and her interest to the East of the western Caucasus. No one has ground for complaining against precepts embodying the traditional wisdom of successive generations of statesmen, so long as they are reserved for application as occasion may arise, and so long as they are not obtruded on the notice of equally powerful and equally independent governments. But, most certainly, it would be a dangerous novelty if any such maxims were flung in the face of mankind as a principle of public law-as a dogma which no emergency would justify the declarants in contravening, and which no combination of circumstances would entitle the rest of the world to disregard."

All the possible practical use that the United States can ever make of the Monroe doctrine, is here conceded, as perfectly in character with the immemorial policy of all great nations.

The objection to the public profession of it as an immutable principle that admits neither of abandonment nor modification, under any possible circumstances, without national dishonor, is precisely that which we have felt bound to urgefrom the days of President Polk to these present. A rule of publie law, can only be such by the general recognition of nations, and it is evident that in this case the attempt has been made to constitute the United States a legislator against the consent of all other nations.

As a maxim of practical policy, to be carefully guarded and always acted on to the extent with which it is consistent with the true interests of the country, the Monroe doctrine is the plain dictate of sound statesmanship, and in that form will meet with universal support in the United States. To carry it further is to make it absurd in reason and worthless in practice; for it is sure, sooner or later, to be violated in some obscure corner, and the violation to be unredressed. We shall have the ridicule of enacting a pompous law, which on trial was found

NASHVILLE, TENN.

SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 16, 1853.

GEN. EDWIN POLK.

We see that this gentleman has announced himself as a candidate for State Senator in the district, composed of the counties of Hardeman, McNairy, and Hardin, Gen. Polk is well known throughout the State, and enjoys a high reputation for talents and private worth. His services in the Legislature have been very valuable. No man has labored more devotedly to serve his constituents and promote the general welfare of the State. The next legislature would be incomplete without his unfladging industry and clear judgment in its councils. Of course, now that he is in the field, he will be returned as one of its members. We copy the following from the Memphis Appeal:

GEN. EDWIN POLK.-Gen. Edwin Polk has, at the general solicitation of the Democracy throughout the district, consented to announce his name as a candidate for Senator in the next General Assembly of Tennessee from the District composed of the counties of Hardeman, McNairy and Hardin. We are gratified that so useful a legislator, sound a Republican and talented a gentleman as Gen. Polk. should forego his disposition to seek the retirement of private life, and again surrender his talents to the interests of his fellow-citizens. As a gentleman of talent, high moral qualities and Republican sympathies, and as a true Southerner in feeling and principle, there is no man in Tennessee who has more universal respect wherever he may be known. We should be pleased to see him in even a higher and more useful position. There is no doubt that he will receive such a vote as will entitle his election to be regarded as almost by acclamation. Indeed we very much doubt whether there will be any opposition to his election from any quarter.

MEMPRIS CONVENTION.

We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation from the committee of invitation, on the part of the citizens of Memphis, to attend the Convention in that city. This convention, it will be remembered, convenes in June. Its assembling will be an event of great importance to the South west. It will be the commencement of an era in our history of increased prosperity, self-reliance, and independence. Its importance, in fact, cannot well be over-estimated by Southern men, and we sincerely hope that it will be attended by enterprising, experienced and talented men from all parts of the south-western coun-

BARTLETT'S COMMERCIAL AND BANKING TABLES.

We have been furnished by Messrs. Toon & Rur-LAND with a copy of this new work, for examination. A brief inspection has impressed us with a high opinion of its merits. We consider it invaluable, and almost indispensable, to bankers, merchants and business men generally. Its tables for computing interest upon any sum for any length of time, and its time tables, are as simple as they are ingenious and useful. Mr. BARTLETT has evidently spent much time and labor upon this work, and by the accuracy and extent of its calculations, and the commercial information embodied in it, has conferred inestimable benefits upon the business commu-

Messrs. Toon & RUTLAND are the agents for the sale of this work in Nashville.

COAL FROM THE SEWANEE COAL MINES. - We have in our office, for inspection, a specimen of the coal from the mines of the Sewanee Coal Company .-These mines, as many of our readers will remember, are situated in the Cumberland Mountains, about 90 miles from Nashville, and 14 miles from the N. & C. Railroad. They are considered inexhaustible, and have lately been examined by Prof. Leslie, state Geologist of Pennsylvania. This gentleman pronounces this coal equal to any in the United States, being about half bitumen and half

We are informed that the Sewanee Company is now fully organized, and will soon have the contemplated road from the mines to the N. & C. road under contract. We hope the time is not far distant when the Sewanee coal will command the Nashville market. We understand it is the intention of the company to furnish their best coal at 121

INDICTED. - We learn from the St. Louis Intelligencer of the 8th, that the grand jury empannelled by the United States Circuit Court returned true bills of indietment against three men named John SHAWNEY, JOSEPH V. DODGE and JOHN H. HOLLAND. who murdered a Deleware Indian and squaw and plundered their property, last year on the plains. The indictments are three in number, two of which are for murder, and one for robbery.

The facts in the case adduced in the preliminary examination before the Justice's Court in the Western part of the State, are as follows: The three prisoners were deserters from the United States Army on the frontier, and accidently met each other on the plains, as they were coming towards the States. When some distance beyond the frontier they were overtaken by a Delaware Indian and squaw, who were coming to St. Joseph with some mules laden with furs and other articles to sell. The three men suffering for the want of food, the Indian and wife kindly tendered them assistance, and they thus travelled together. The prisoners concocted a plan to murder them to obtain possession of their goods, which they subsequently accomplished. Some persons subsequently arrived on the spot and found the man dead, but the woman, though mortally wounded, was still living. She was brought to Liberty, where one of the prisoners had been arrested. The two others were taken in this city and were conveyed to Liberty, where the squaw identified them all as perpetrating the murder, previous to her death. A more foul murder has seldom been chronicled in the annals of crime.

LETTER FROM MR. SHREVE.

We have been furnished, by the gentleman to whom it is addressed, with the following letter from the President of the Louisville and Nashville R. R. Company. We cheerfully make room in our columns for it : OFFICE LOUISVILLE AND NASHVILLE R. R. Co., \ LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 7, 1853.

JUDGE A. BALCH-My Deur Sir : I am at all times gratified to read and receive such spirited letters as now before me. Yours of the 29th is received, and I am happy to add to your information on the subject of the prospects of this road; that Mr. Robinson's last letters advise me of large negotiations for money and iron for our road. We are expecting him daily, and hope many days will not pass after his return before you will hear that this road is under contract. I am also pleased to learn of the progress of the road South of Nashville, for reasons you have forci-

It has been intimated there will be some effort to delay the execution of the vote of Davidson county. I hope, when the opponents to that vote. learn of the unanimity with which Louisville has taken her million of stock in this road, that they will lay down their opposition. I expect to be in Nashville in this month, at which time I hope to be able to say when this work will commence in Davidson county. Yours, very respectfully, L. L. SHREVES, Pres't.

THE MAINE LIQUOR LAW .- This law (says the Louisville Times) has cut a very considerable figure in the recent elections in the New England States. In Connecticut, Col. Seymour, the Democratic candidate for Governor, was bitterly opposed not only on the score of his democracy, but because he was said to be opposed to the Maine Liquor Law, yet he is, notwithstanding this opposition, triumphantly elected, and the lower House of Connecticut will contain a majority of Anti-Liquor Law members, as far as heard from. In Portland, Maine, NEAL Dow, the famous author of the Maine Liquor Law, runs far behind both the whig and democratic candidate for Mayor, the vote standing, Cahoox, (whig) 1513; Fose, (dem.) 611; Dow, (Temperance) 353. In Rhode Island the people voted direct on the question, whether the Maine Liquor Law, now in operation in that State, should or should not be repealed. The Newport Daily News, a whig paper, is bitterly opposed to the Law, and warmly advocates its repeal. The editor says :-

"The question in relation to the Liquor Law, upon which the vote is to be taken is, 'shall the law be repealed?' Those who desire its repeal will deposite the vote upon which is printed 'Yes.' Those who are opposed to its repeal, the vote upon which is printed 'No.' Let every well-disposed, true Newport man vote 'Yes.'"

After predicting that the Liquor Law will be defeated, and that a majority of the people will vote

"Yes, is the answer of every friend of the constitution and the laws. Yes, is the answer of every man who would have his house his castle. Yes, is the answer of every man who would preserve his family from intrusion and insult. Yes, he answers, who abhors spies and informers, the vile fruits of this law. Yes, he answers, who has seen life, liberty and property at the mercy of false accusations. Yes, he answers, who knows that laws like these are cloaks for malice and revenge. Yes, he says, who holds his liberty and his property too sacred to be at the mercy of perjurers, or suborners of perjurers. Yes, he says, who is liable to be imprisoned for six months by the order of a justice of the peace. And all are liable under this law."

Miss ADALINE C. MOORE, aged fourteen years, of East Boston, was taken before the police court last week by her own father, who charged her with being a wanderer in the streets, and wilful and stubborn, so that he had no control over her. The spirit rappers had her as a medium in their species of folly, and she was disposed to become the medium of a good many other follies.

ACCIDENT AND DEATH .- At Pulaski, on Sunday ast, Mr. Summerfield Batte was mortally wounded by the accidental discharge of a pistol in the coat pocket of a Mr. Ridgeway. The ball took effect in the left hip, and resulted in the death of Mr. Batte on Tuesday evening. Mr. Batte was the son of Thomas S. Batte, Esq., of Nashville.

NEWSPAPER OFFICE FOR SALE .- Mr. WM. L. MAR-TIN, the editor and proprietor of the Savannah Journal, Savannah, Tenn., offers his establishment for sale. The Journal is a whig paper. The county in which it is printed is largely Democratic and Mr. M. is of opinion that if it was converted into a democratic organ, it might be made profitable. The materials are all new, having been in use only a little

HORRIBLE MURDER.-We learn from the Southern (Ky.) Argus that a few days ago George Morrow, a blacksmith residing in Hickman county, being under the influence of liquor, ordered his son HAR-RY Morrow, a youth about seventeen years of age, to leave his house. The son not going out immediately, the father seized his gun, pushed his son out of the door, and instantly fired at him, the whole charge entering his forehead, taking off the entire upper part and scattering the brains in a most horrible manner. The murderer was taken, and after undergoing a legal examination, was sent to jail for further trial. He is represented as a habit-

Mr. Layard's volume abounds with corroborament. Mound after mound, palace after palace, and even tombs and hidden vaults testify to the minute truthfulness of that inspired volume. Hosts of witnesses are disentombed from the hoary and almost forgotten past, and by the grandeur and majesty of their testimony, expose the shallowness and ignorance of scoffers of the present. It would be an interesting task to gather into one volume all the corroborations.

ANOTHER MAIL ROBBER.-We have received a communication from Columbia, Ky., requesting us to guard the public against one Hiram K. Skeen .-The writers say that he has repeatedly robbed the post-office at that place and on the night of the 15th of December, broke into it and stole a letter containing a considerable amount of money. He has escaped from the officera

He is about 23 years old, 6 feet 2 inches high, walks erect, has light hair, light complexion, by occupation a saddler, and has been engaged in a liquor store.—

It is reported that he has been lately a guard in the Missouri penitentiary, at Jefferson City, but more recently was at St. Louis. The communication is signed by Messrs. T. Cravens, Eli Wheat, H. W. Wilson, R. L. Jones and N. Montgomery, a committee appointed by the Masonic Lodge.—Louisville

NEW YORK MONEY MARKET.

The Journal of Commerce of Thursday evening

There is less enquiry for call loans, with a more abundant supply of capital offering for temporary investment. There is a good demand, however, for street discounts, and for prime business paper, full rates are paid. Any growing case in the market is immediately checked by an increased call from the importers for the purpose of remitance, and thus our current quotations are sustained.

The prospect now is, that the use for capital will eep pace with the supply for some time to come, so that full legal rates of interest will be obtained by the banks. The State Superintendant has called for the Quarterly Statement to be made up to the 26th February, the going back a month, from the time generally anticipated. This fulfils an intimation we gave some time since, as to the course which would probably be pursued.

The check which has been given to all classes of speculative movements by the pressure in the market during the last six weeks, will be productive of much good. The importations have been diminished; and a variety of useless projects, involving a large outlay of money, abandoned

THE CRIMINAL COURT-Has been engaged, for the last two days, in trying the case of the State vs. JAMES HALLETT, who is now, for the third time, convicted of the crime of grand larceny, for stealing the cow of Mr. J. B. Foster. His counsel, Mr. GEORGE MANEY, procured for him two new trials, and did every thing it was possible to get him clear. The evidence against Mr. H., though circumstan tial, was very strong. On his last trial he introduced, as a witness, a fellow prisoner whom he had persyaded, unknown to his counsel, to commit perjury in his behalf.

The counsel on both sides acquitted themselves with honor. Mr. George Maney, John Thompson, and D. B. CLAIBORNE were for the defence. Mr ROBERT W. BROWN and the Attorney General, G. BRADFORD, for the State.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

M'Lane's Liver Pills, have now become the great Specific for Hepatis or derangement of the liver, in its most complicated forms. This medicine has done an immense amount of good in curing this fearful disease, so common throughout the United States, and as evidence of its efficacy, we will state that it is superseding every other remedy. The demand for this certain cure is unprecedented. Orders for it are coming in from all quarters, and every mail brings something of the following tener:-

CAMBRIDGE, Obio, Jan. 1851. Messrs, J. Kidd & Co.-We are nearly out of M'Lane's Pills. It would be well to keep us supplied, as there is a great demand for them in our place. OGIER & CLARK. For sale at all the principal Drug Stores in Nashville

Coughs, Influenza &c .- Why is it that so many neglect a Cough for a long time, and then wonder that they have the CONSUMPTION. How much suffering and death would be prevented if they would cure their Coughs at once by taking that infallible r-made, Dr. C. Williams' Pulmo-NIC BAISAN OF WILD CHERRY AND WOOD WAPTHA, which is becoming so universally popular.

See advertisement in another column.

Notice.- R. P. Cannaway says:- My wife was cured of what was pronounced by the most eminent Physicians to to be "Consumption of the Lungs," by the use of Dr. C. BENJ. SMITH'S SUGAR-COATED PILLS," which I gave as a last resort. She was given over to die by her Doctors, but after a few doses of Dr. Smith's Pills, according to the direc. tions, I discovered that she seemed to improve and the cough to lessen. The disease appeared to come to the surface, and the whole abdomen broke out in running sores, and the spitting of bloody corruption which had been exceedingly bad, ceased, by perseverance in the use of the Pills without any other medicine. In two weeks she was restored to better health than she has before enjoyed since she

An Ounce of Fact is worth a pound of theory and the swarms of conclusive facts that cluster around that incomparable preparation, Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia, establishing its value as a tonic and restorative, are such as would prevent incredulit. itself from questioning its efficacy. In all cases of disease of the stomach, whether acute or chronic it may be recommended for its soothing, cordial and renovating influence.- Dyspepsia, heartburn, loss of appetite, nausea, nervoue tremors relaxation, debility, &c., are relieved, by the Bitters in a very short space of time; and perseverance in their use never fails to work a thorough cure.

Another Scientific Wonder!--Important to Dyspeptics .- Dr. J. S. Houghton's Pepsin, the True Digestive Fluid or Gastric Juice, prepared from Rennet, or the Fourth Stomach of the Ox, after directions of Baron Leiber. the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. Houghton, M. D., Philadelphia. This is only a wonderful remedy for Indicestion, Dyspepsia, undice, Liver Complaint, Constirpation and Debility, curing after nature's own method, by nature's own agent, the Gastric Juice. Pamphlets, containing scientific evidences of its value, furnished by agents gratis. See notice among the medical advertisements.

H. G. FARRELL'S CELEBRATED ARABIAN LINIMENT TRIUMPHANT OVER DISEASE.

This truly great medicine still goes on, conquering discoing many a poor powerless victim from th grave. By its powerfully stimulating, penetrating and ano-dyne qualities, it restores the use of himbs which have been palsied for years; and by its singular power of reproducing the synovial fluid or joint water, it cures all diseases of the joints with surprising rapidity. For rheumatism, and affections of the spine and spicen, it has proved itself a specific; and for affections of the lungs, liver and kidneys, it is a most valuable and powerful auxiliary; also, for all diseases of the glands, scrofula, goitre or swelled neck, etc., etc. And indeed for almost any disease where an external application is required, this medicine stands unparalleled. Sprains, bruises, cramps, wounds, chilblains, burns, etc., are speedily

From Hon, Peter Menard, one of the oblest settlers in Illinois. It gives me pleasure to add my testimony to the virtues of your great medicine. One of my blooded horses had a swelling over the cap of the knee, about the size of a hen's egg.-Some said it was a strain, and some that it was the joint water from the knee, and could not be cured. I tried oil cedar ourit, and all the liniments and outments and they did no nore good than water. I then, by persuasion of my friends, tried H. G. Forrell's Arabian Linament, and I was happy to find it take effect after a few days, and it finally cured the noble animal entirely. I think it is decidedly the greatest liniment for horses, as well as human flesh, I ever knew. Tremont, Tazeweil co., Ili-, March 16, 1849.

PALSY OR PARALYSIS. Thadens Smith, of Mudd creek, Tazewell county, Illinois, says: "I had lost the use of my arm for for more than a year, by palsy or paralysis; the flesh had entirely withered away, leaving nothing but skin, muscle and bone. I tried all the hest doctors, and all the remedies I could hear of, but they did no good. I then commenced the use of H. G. Farrell's Arabian Liniment, and a few bottles entirely cured me, and my arm is now as strong and fleshy as the other, it is also first rate for burns, sprains and bruises."

Look out for Counterfeits! The public are cautioned against another counterfeit, hich has lately made its appearance, called W. B. Farrell's Arabian Liniment, the most dangerous of all the counter-feits, because his having the name of Farrell, many will buy it in good faith, without the knowledge that a counterfeit exists, and they will perhaps only discover their error when the spurious mixture has wrought its evil effects.

The genuine article is manufactured only by H. G. Farrell, sole inventor and proprietor, and whole sale druggist, No. 17 Main street, Peoria, Illinois, to whom all applications for Agencies must be addressed. Be sure you get it with the letters H. G. before Farrell's, thus—H. G. FARRELL'S—and his signature on the wramper all others. and his signature on the wrapper, all others are counterfeits.
